

In Memoriam: Marshall Dubois

It is deep regret that we report the passing of Marshall Dubois, a longtime shipmate and one of the pillars of our Association.

For more than 25 years, Marshall served the association with extraordinary dedication, wearing many hats, Webmaster, newsletter editor, IT provider, record keeper, shipmate search coordinator and great guy. Much of what keeps our Association connected, informed and historically intact exists because of his steady and selfless work behind the scenes

Marshall maintained and safeguarded our records, preserved our history, and was instrumental in locating and reconnecting shipmates who had long since lost touch. For many, a renewed friendship or reunion attendance began with a simple message or database entry that Marshall made possible. His contributions often went unseen, but they were felt by all.

Beyond his technical skills Marshall was simply a good shipmate, dependable, patient, and always willing to help. He gave his time freely never seeking recognition, motivated only by his commitment to the ship, the crew, and the bonds we share.

Our Association is stronger because of him, and his legacy will endure in the connections he restored, the records he preserved, and the community he quietly sustained for decades.

We extend our sincere condolences to his family and loved ones. He will be missed, remembered, and honored. We will share final arrangements as soon as known.

Fairwinds and Following Seas shipmate Marshall Dubois.
